MONDAY MORNING JUNE 12 1865

The Doom of the Aristocracy

Between the aristocratic members of Northern society and the lower classes of the South, there never has been any real consonance of feeling. That two classes so widely separated in point of wealth and social position should have any real sympathy for each other is altogether improbable. Patriotism and plebian hate against the high all time they have been each other's enemies. It is the study of the brat to devise means by which they can forever hold the high position they occupy, or of the last to tear the desks to bring their proud culprit superiors down to their own level. A strife of such a nature as this always exists where there are different classes holding different stations in the scale of privilege. It would be absurd to suppose that there can be any real harmonious feeling between them or that they will cease to look upon each other with disgust until the artificial distinction that separates them no longer exist. With an appearance of righteousness the noble and powerful will at times court the favor of their inferiors not indeed through motives of true benignity, but for some secret and selfish purpose. In this way the lords of Southern society taught the "poor whites" by whom they were surrounded that their rights and interests were about to be assailed by those who in reality, were never their foes. At the instigation of these privileged classes who have always been their real enemies, the masses of the south were induced to make war upon the people of the North. By reason of the similarity of their interests, and from the fact that their social station was, it ought to have been identical the masses of the North and South should have remained true friends, and should have regarded the slave holding aristocracy as their common enemies. The results of the war have at last accomplished the disenchantment of the Southern people. They now understand that their aristocratic leaders desired to use them only for their own aggrandizement and that in pretending to seek the interests of the people they lured them to their ruin.

At the first moment when the great mass of the southern people are brought to understand their condition, and to have a proper appreciation of the relations between themselves and the aristocracy, we hear threats of the direst vengeance from the former against the latter. All the soldiers of the disbanded rebel armies are said to express intense feeling against their late leaders. It has often been predicted that when the rebellion was over, nothing could protect the leaders against the bitterness and fury of the multitude whom they so wickedly misguided. The prediction is now being verified. A deluded and injured people are now fully aware, that their pretended champions never were their friends. Like that of Moloch, the voices of these ambitious counselors were loud for war. With plausible speech, they beguiled a whole people from their allegiance. Upon the people so fraudulently dealt with and not upon them who wronged them, the calamities of the war have most heavily fallen. But a season of retribution has now begun. The punishment of their late self-imposed rulers is in the hands of the people whom they so faulty injured. Vengeance will now do its work. The slave holding aristocracy is to punish forever. The inevitable conflict which exists between the higher and lower classes, is now intensified in the South, by a recollection of the distresses which the former have brought upon the country, and by the knowledge which the people have, that these men are the authors of their poverty and ruin. When all the vestiges of this aristocracy—a thing which is so completely repugnant to republican government—are obliterated, there will be nothing to divide the interests and affections of our country men, and civil war can never afterwards occur to blight the peaceful prosperity of a re united people.

THE WIDOW OF SENATOR BAKER.—This lady arrived here yesterday morning from San Francisco. A few hours after her arrival she started for Vancouver where she has a daughter residing. The people of Oregon will always remember with interest the widow of him who did honor to this State in the councils of the nation, and whose words of patriotic eloquence were so potent in arousing the people to go forth to battle for the cause for which he poured out his blood. Would that the noble patriot had lived to witness the triumph he so prophetically foretold! His name is written in the hearts of his countrymen, his memory is cherished by the State whose Senator he was. His widow will always find a welcome among the people of Oregon. She can assure her that their friendly sympathies are with her wherever she may go.

THE DAILY MAIL CONTRACTOR.—We have information from one well acquainted with him that J. E. Reconde, the person who has taken the contract to carry the daily mail hither from California, has long been the proprietor of various omnibus lines about Washington City and that he has an excellent practical acquaintance with the business in which he has contracted to engage here. His father was for many years proprietor of extensive stage lines in Pennsylvania and Ohio. From his experience in this branch of business, we may expect that Mr. Reconde will carry our mail with energy, promptitude and dispatch.

GOV. GIBBS has made the following appointments in the Oregon Infantry:

George B. Curry, Colonel. John M. Drake, Lieut. Colonel. W. A. Rinehart, Major. A. P. Ingalls, Captain. Byron Barlow, 1st Lieutenant. Albert Applegate, 2d Lieutenant.

Also the following promotions have been made in the Cavalry:

1st Lieutenant J. B. White, appointed Captain. 2d Lieut., Solon Peyton, appointed 1st Lieutenant.

The political power of the Southern States will be very considerately augmented by the abolition of slavery. Instead of being counted as the whole in the Congressional apportionment negroes will be enumerated per capita like all other persons. This will give the people of the former slave States twelve or thirteen additional representatives.

[EXCLUSIVE TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MAY 31.

Holden, Governor of North Carolina.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The President issued a proclamation this day providing for the reorganization of North Carolina, and appointed W. W. Holden, late editor of the Raleigh Standard, military Governor with power to call a convention for the purpose of framing a State Constitution.

Admiral [illegible] upon the ordinance of secession surrendered the Navy Yard at Norfolk, Va., on the 20th inst.

Wm. M. Wadley has been appointed one of the Commissioners of Internal Revenue, vice [illegible] resigned.

Appointments of Division Commanders.

NEW YORK, May 30.—The Herald's special says: Two thousand of the regular army are assembling at Raleigh to command the Pacific Department. Sherman, the Military District of the Mississippi, comprising Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and Louisiana, Meade the Atlantic States, Sheridan the Texas, Missouri and Department of the Gulf, Canby the Department of the Potomac, North Carolina and perhaps other Southern States. Warren has resigned and Major General Wright has received orders to transfer the army of the James to Louisville.

The Herald also says Stanton is not going to Richmond. He intends to resign however. It will take some time to get off the army. The money is ready.

Cobb and Mallory Captured—Negro Enlistments.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Howell Cobb and Mallory are said to be on their way to Knoxville, under the escort of a detachment of Wilson's cavalry, which has lately been raiding at Chattanooga.

The Commercial's Frankfort, Ky., dispatch says that recruiting is going on briskly among the colored people in Kentucky. A few months more and negro enlistments will settle the question for Kentucky, independent of the Constitutional Amendment.

The Times's Nashville dispatch says: Gen. Thomas has had a conference with the authorities of the State and [illegible] Senate passed the ordinance from the House yesterday by 16 ayes and 6 noes.

The rebel champion, Ferguson, has been captured and closely confined in irons in Nashville.

British Government to Indemnify this Country for Losses by Rebel Cruisers.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The Herald announces that the World of last night on the 30th makes public the important fact, that the Government of President Johnson, has instructed the American Minister at London to require of the English government a prompt decision as to the indemnities due the United States for the losses sustained in Federal citizens by cruisers such as the Alabama and other vessels constructed or equipped in English ports since the beginning of the war. It adds, that this demand has been several times made by the United States. Its justice is now [illegible] the British government which have recently been refused upon the opinions given by the law officers of the crown. Lincoln threatened the latter privately to the demand, renewed it in his annual message, and after his death Johnston further pressed it, but with more vigor and energy than ever in the spirit of the New era, that this question with the [illegible] the present time had not seemed of serious or pressing importance, perhaps cause for the between the two nations. The English Cabinet cannot ignore the accounts amounting to many millions sterling, as it seems to be certain that the federal government will not modify the indemnities at the point to which matters have already arrived. The Herald thinks the English government will hardly agree at in the negative which would be followed by [illegible] consequences, but will make this new sacrifice to peace, after having made so many heroic sacrifices for the same end, during the past few years.

The Madrid [illegible] of May 1st, mentions a precedent to sustain the claim of the United States. It says, we are of the same opinion of the Memorial Diplomatique, because apart from the justice of America a demand, they are uttered by a powerful State Cabinet. St. James will always be found disposed to make heroic sacrifices in any conflict of unusual strength, respecting all the terror of its traditional pride for difficulties with nations inferior in strength.

General News.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Secretary Seward has issued a circular prescribing the rules and regulations for taking and registering the amnesty oath required in the proclamation. It may be administered by any officer of the United States civil, military or naval, or any civil or military officer of any loyal State or Territory qualified by the laws thereof to administer an oath; the original to be deposited in the archives of the Government at Washington.

CAIRO, May 31.—Gen. Canby, by order of the President, has instructed Gen. Warren, commanding the Department of the Mississippi, not to recognize any officer of Confederate or State Governments within the limits of his command, or authorize them to exercise the functions of their own offices, to prevent by force if necessary, the assembling of any Legislature and imprison its members and State officers who attempt to act in opposition to his order.

LOUISVILLE, May 31.—The trial of Chief Justice Joshua F. Bullitt terminated to-day in the Kentucky Legislature, both branches sustaining the address of the commissioner requesting the Governor to remove him from office.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The Government has under advisement the question of colonizing all Indian tribes between Minnesota and the Rocky Mountains on a reservation somewhere on the Northern border Montana and Dacota, within the British possessions adjoining, as united hunting grounds.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The Commercial says:

The President has declared in favor of permitting soldiers to retain the arms captured in battle as [illegible] reminiscences of heroism &c.

NEW YORK, May 31.—A private letter from a citizen of New York, now residing at Matamoras, says that a mock funeral of Lincoln took place in that city when the news of his death was received. The secession sympathizers collected in the streets and had a controversy over something they pretended was the body of the late President.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The Eagle from Havana with dates to the 27th, has arrived.

The Nonconnah has been delivered to the Captain General, as [illegible] to await instructions from the Home Government as to what disposition is to be made of her. She will probably be delivered up to the United States.

Capt. Maffit left for Galveston on the Owl, May 25th.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Mexican advices are from Vera Cruz to the 8th. On that day six Americans were arrested. No reason was assigned. All the troops that could be spared, went out after the guerrillas.

NEW YORK, May 31.—President Jeffries, of Hayti was at the head of 1000 men to put down an insurrection. The rebels already had possession of the capital.

It was said the rebels would attack the Dominicans as soon as the Spanish had evacuated the Island.

England Declines to Interfere for Jeff. Davis—the Mexican Question in France.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The Tribune from Liverpool the 20th ult., Queenst wn the 21st has arrived. In the House of Commons, on the 20th Mr. Griffith asked Lord Palmerston if his attention had been drawn to the proclamation offering one hundred thousand dollars for the apprehension of Jeff. Davis and whether the Ministers were prepared to make any representation to the United States Government in reference to the [illegible] Lord Palmerston said that his only knowledge was that Her Majesty's Government had no intention of attempting any interference in the internal affairs of the United States. The declaration in question was not [illegible].

The Paris correspondent of the Tribune says that the news of the opening of recruiting offices for Mexico in New York created an immense sensation in Paris. The Moniteur refrains from any allusion to it. The general impression is that Napoleon will [illegible] and will direct the French people to mix [illegible] any reinforcement for Maximilian.

Strange rumors were current in the London Stock Exchange on the 20th, though grounded, that had depressed it. The most prominent was that Napoleon had been urgently recalled to Paris on some pressing crisis. Also that Maximilian had left Mexico.

The Due De Persigny has issued a pamphlet chiefly directed to the Italian Union recently established.

The Times' correspondent at the Union Jones says that the recent two subjects of dispute which [illegible] the Empress and Ministers [illegible] for the return of the Emperor. These are the recruiting [illegible] for volunteers for Mexico and to have [illegible] in the hands of the United States until the [illegible] of a committee of the Chamber of Deputies on the affairs of the State of presents [illegible]. The Paris Pays [illegible] remarks that Maximilian will be highly favored by Napoleon and [illegible] his ability to [illegible] the adverse circumstances which surround. It thinks that Maximilian's success is very doubtful, and hopes that it will not be a source of calamity to the people.
